Fabricators
Striving for quality through Plus operational excellence

Fabricators Plus designs and manufactures quality case packaging equipment designed to meet your specific needs. The equipment that we manufacture is designed and built to stay on line day after day, year after year. Although our case packaging systems are typically fully automated, we can provide stand-alone case erectors, case sealers, and systems that accumulate and load product.

Fabricators Plus equipment is designed to be used internationally to package medical, personal, consumer, food, and industrial products. All of our case packaging systems feature heavy duty construction, electrical controls, large capacity case magazine, and hand crank adjustments that accommodate a range of product sizes. They also accept products in an assortment of shapes and sizes. They easily adjust to a wide range of sizes, and include pressure sensitive tape or hot melt closure. All major mechanical motions are motorized, and include electrical controls with PLC logic and HMI. All packaging systems include easy-to-load large capacity magazines and stand-alone modules interface with existing case erector and top sealer.
